PARTNERSHIP

We’re partnering with THEM Consulting GmbH, one of the DACH region’s sharpest boutique SAP EWM and logistics consultancies.

THEM brings deep warehouse and supply chain expertise and years of EWM project experience. Qorelo brings the AI intelligence layer for end-to-end SAP transformation: driving projects meaningfully faster, then staying embedded in the new system to keep making it better long after go-live.

Why this partnership matters

That last part is the difference. Most tooling stops the moment the project ends. Qorelo doesn't.

Built on the SAP Activate methodology and aligned to clean core principles, it moves into the new landscape and keeps optimising it, so the system gets better over time instead of slowly drifting out of date.

Across the transformation lifecycle, Qorelo's AI agents turn workshop transcripts into structured deliverables in hours instead of weeks, sharpen scope before the work begins, and keep project knowledge in the platform when consultants roll off.

THEM's consultants stay firmly in control, with Qorelo learning their methodology and templates rather than replacing them.

What we deliver together

Together we're pairing THEM's logistics domain expertise with Qorelo's AI to deliver SAP transformations that are faster to stand up and smarter once they're live.

For clients running complex warehouse and supply chain operations, that means shorter timelines, more traceable delivery, and systems that keep evolving with the business.
