About Qorelo | Partnership

PARTNERSHIP

LinkedWorld is a global alliance of top SAP consultancies, uniting experts across six continents to help businesses expand internationally through seamless SAP integration. Together, that network delivers transformation and growth for companies operating across borders.

What the partnership brings

Through this partnership, we're bringing Qorelo's AI agents to LinkedWorld's member SAP Partners.

Built natively on the SAP Activate methodology and aligned to clean core principles, our agents work across the transformation lifecycle: sharpening scope estimates from RFP documents before the bid goes out, turning workshop transcripts into structured deliverables, configuration guides, and cutover artifacts in hours instead of weeks, and keeping project knowledge in the platform when consultants roll off.

Crucially, Qorelo doesn't replace a partner's methodology or expertise. It learns each firm's playbooks, templates, and IP, helping their teams deliver faster and more consistently while keeping people in control.

What it means for LinkedWorld members

For LinkedWorld members, the partnership means faster, more consistent cloud and S/4HANA transformations, more margin retained on every engagement, and more capacity to take on the international programs their clients depend on, without trading away quality or speed.

As the 2027 S/4HANA deadline approaches and demand for skilled delivery talent surges, that additional capacity matters more than ever.

Building for the long term

This is the kind of partner we want to build with: a network that already sets the standard for SAP delivery at global scale.

By combining LinkedWorld's reach and expertise with Qorelo's AI engine, we can help enterprises modernise faster and keep their systems evolving long after go-live.

We're looking forward to what we'll deliver together.
